Amateur Radio Open House

Louisville Public Library | 1600 S. Nickel Plate Ave, Louisville, OH 44641

Join local operators around the area as we operate live on the air. We will be using voice, morse code, and digital modes to contact other operators around the world. All ages are welcome.

- Get on the air with licensed operators
- Learn how to get licensed
- Practice sending Morse Code
- Fox hunt learn how to use a hand held radio and directional antenna to find a transmitter
- Meet local members from different clubs around the Stark County area
